VISTAS

LIFE IS BETTER WHERE EARTH AND SKY MEET

OCTOBER - NOVEMBER 2017

GET TO KNOW YOUR PUBLIC SAFETY PROFESSIONALS

The average citizen only interacts with police officers, firefighters, and paramedics in moments of crisis or stress. We're always looking for opportunities to change that, so our citizens get to know the people who protect and serve them before that moment when an emergency arises.

As this edition of Vistas hits driveways and newsstands, the patrol officers with the Sierra Vista Police Department will be chatting with residents in a casual atmosphere at the department's first-ever Coffee with a Cop event. They plan to begin conducting these events on a regular basis, so stay tuned!

"We want to give residents the chance to sit down with our officers without a preplanned agenda. They can share any thoughts or questions they may have or just spend some time getting to know the men and women who help keep them safe," Sierra Vista Deputy Police Chief Jon Kosmider says.

The police department and Sierra Vista Fire & Medical Services also have a new way to keep residents informed of upcoming events, news, emergency notifications, and stories from inside the departments. Launched in September, the "Sierra Vista Police, Fire, and EMS" Facebook page expands the departments' opportunities to engage with citizens directly. Updates will still be shared to the "City of Sierra Vista" page as well.

Right now, dozens of local residents are taking advantage of long-running programs that offer a deeper dive into the departments. Participants in the citizens fire and police academies spend one night each week for over two months to get a glimpse into the departments' operations. Sierra Vista Fire & Medical Services (SVF&MS) also offers its CADET Program for youth ages 16 to 18. These programs are the best way to peek behind the scenes and get to know what our public safety professionals do on a daily basis.

If you want to take it a step further and actually explore a career with the Sierra Vista Police Department or SVF&MS, there are job opportunities available right now. SVF&MS will host a recruitment open house on Monday, October 23, from 5:30 to 8:30 p.m. at Fire Station 3, located at 675 Giulio Cesare Avenue.

To learn more about the agencies or even schedule a ride-along or tour, call the Sierra Vista Police Department (520) 452-7500 or Fire Station 3 at (520) 417-4400.

FROM THE MAYOR

Senate Puts BRAC on Ice

by Rick Mueller, Mayor

Defense communities throughout the country took notice last month when talks of a potential BRAC in 2019 arose as part of the U.S. Senate's work to amend the National Defense Authorization Act (NDAA) to approve funding for a Base Realignment And Closure (BRAC).

While a BRAC was expected to move forward in 2021, its incorporation into the NDAA would have moved that timeline up by a year or two. Ultimately the BRAC proposal didn't garner enough support in Congress this year but it served as a reminder that we must remain vigilant to ensure Sierra Vista and Fort Huachuca are ready when a BRAC proposal does gain traction.

Fortunately, Fort Huachuca is in a strong position. Recent talks we've had with Defense Department representatives in Washington D.C. indicate the Unmanned Aerial Systems training and training for some selected Military Intelligence specialties on Fort Huachuca have been projected for growth. This speaks to the overall good standing of Fort Huachuca in the eyes of the Department of Defense.

It's important to understand how this latest BRAC proposal differed from the previous one in 2005. It was much more limited in scope, capping costs at $5 billion, compared to the previous BRAC that started at over $24 billion grew to over $35 billion. Instead of using a commission, it would have been conducted via a direct DOD proposal to Congress, included an extensive public input process, and afforded members of Congress the opportunity to make changes before a final up or down vote. Despite our favorable position, we will need to ensure members of Congress understand Fort Huachuca's unique assets when a BRAC occurs in the future.

The greater Sierra Vista community has an impressive record of supporting Fort Huachuca. But we can't rest on our laurels. It is time for each one of us to ask what effective role we can play now, before a BRAC is announced. The City, Cochise County, and the Huachuca 50 still continue to lead on this critical issue, but everyone's support will be critical in the success of overcoming the challenges of BRAC.

Consider joining or contributing to the Huachuca 50, or writing letters to the entire Arizona Congressional delegation and Governor to express your concerns and support for Fort Huachuca. Even as we strive to diversify the economy, we must also remain ready to protect our primary economic engine so the foundation of our local economy remains strong.

INSIDE CITY HALL

Familiar Faces, New Roles

by Chuck Potucek, City Manager

In City government, as in life, change is the only constant. Recently we've seen some familiar faces move into new leadership positions and I'm excited to see the energy they bring to their new responsibilities.

With the departure of longtime assistant city manager Mary Jacobs, we lost a powerful presence in our community. It's fortunate that Leisure and Library Services Director Victoria Yarbrough was ready to take on a new challenge. She has already demonstrated her ability to navigate complex negotiations, leverage limited resources, and foster productive relationships. I'm excited to see her continue to grow as our assistant city manager.

Of course, Victoria's transition left us in need of a new director and Chief Procurement Officer Laura Wilson has been selected to fulfill that role. It's been a pleasure to see Laura blossom as a professional during her many years with the City and from her stint in the private sector. She's an incredibly hard worker who brings energy, passion, and innovative thinking to everything she does.

Former Fort Huachuca Garrison Commander Tony Boone is an experienced leader with a focused approach to his new role, making him a welcome addition to our team since he came on board in August. As economic development manager he is charged with carrying forward key initiatives already put in motion, while also bringing fresh eyes to our long-term strategy.

We're fortunate to have people like Victoria, Laura, and Tony dedicated to implementing the community's vision for Sierra Vista. They are civic-minded leaders who understand this city and what it takes to move Sierra Vista forward.

Change can be difficult, but it also presents an opportunity for new ideas that can revitalize how we meet the ever-evolving needs of our community. It's a privilege to work with the passionate team we have in place.

GET ACQUAINTED

by Victoria Yarbrough, Assistant City Manager

As Sierra Vista's new assistant city manager, I'm excited to continue introducing some of the extraordinary people who work here to the community in this column. This time we'll be getting to know Public Works Management Analyst Andrea Castanon and Accounting Assistant Cindy Huff!

Andrea Castanon

The passion Andrea Castanon has for working for the City shines through even before you find out that she spent many years applying to work here before she got her first job! Three years ago, that dream became a reality when Andrea was hired as a buyer in the Procurement Division. Before that, her career followed an interesting path from the private sector, to work as a contractor, to the federal government, back to contracting, and a stint as a CNA. Then, finally, her desire to make a difference in the community led her to achieve her dream of working for the City in 2014. Andrea grew up in Sierra Vista since the age of 9 and her parents still live in her childhood home. Her mother teaches at Carmichael Elementary School. The ability to play even a small part in how the City operates was important to Andrea when it came to raising her two children, Abigail and Seth, and stepson Christopher — who just graduated from Buena High School and enlisted in the Army, here in Sierra Vista. With a bachelor's degree in communications from ASU, Andrea is now a management analyst for the Public Works department, where she spends much of her time as program manager for a federal stormwater pollution prevention program and also manages the largest City department's budget. Andrea and her husband love playing softball, particularly with the City's adult softball league, and working on her photography business.

Cindy Huff

After nearly 20 years of working with the City, Cindy Huff still smiles about her work in the Finance Division. Researching various issues, digging into problems, and helping customers find solutions are some of her favorite things about what she does. This career path happened almost purely by chance, since she just happened to be in the Cochise College career development center one day in 1998 when a call arrived from City Hall asking if anyone might be interested in a part-time position in the City Clerk's office. The rest is history! From the Clerk's office, Cindy moved into the Finance Division in 2000, where she currently works as an accounting assistant, helping with all sewer and sanitation accounts, processing new registrations, and answering phone calls. Although she was born in Lubbock, Texas, Cindy has deep roots in the area. Relocating to Bisbee when she was 5 years old, Cindy's father mined in the Lavender Pit. She's a graduate of the Bisbee High School, and still maintains contact with many of her classmates. Cindy is the proud mom of a son and a daughter, and loves visiting her granddaughter, Olivia. When she's not busy working, Cindy loves the outdoors, particularly camping, fishing, and hiking around Arizona, and going antiquing. You can find her hunting for her favorite collectible, lady's makeup compacts!

ECONOMIC DEVELOPMENT

Sun Corridor Brings Big Ideas to Sierra Vista

By now you have likely heard the news that the City has selected Sun Corridor Inc. to implement our grant funded Sierra Vista Technical Assistance Program.

Yes, it's that Sun Corridor, the same economic development group that offered to send Amazon a 21-foot tall saguaro cactus in advance of its official bid to bring the Amazon's second headquarters to Tucson. But that's not what grabbed our attention when we reviewed proposals for the technical assistance program, which is one of two initiatives funded by Department of Defense Office of Economic Adjustment dollars that are dedicated to diversifying Sierra Vista's economy.

Sun Corridor has an impressive record of business attraction and expansion in the Tucson area. It also boasts a team of highly motivated economic development professionals that have a real interest in doing more work south of Tucson. This grant offers us an opportunity to leverage their expertise to benefit local businesses and build a relationship we hope will net dividends for years to come.

But let's not get too far ahead of ourselves. Right now we're just beginning to work with the Sun Corridor team to get the Sierra Vista Technical Assistance Program off the ground. The program will provide a variety of business development services to local companies seeking to expand their operations in areas not tied to the defense sector.

Companies will be selected through a competitive applications process. Once we're ready to move forward, we'll be sharing more information about how to apply.

For now, don't hesitate to give us a call to learn more about this program and other ways the City of Sierra Vista economic development team can help your business achieve its goals. To reach us, call (520) 439-2212.

EXTRAORDINARY COLORS. UNCOMMON WILDLIFE.

Widely known for the many rare birds often spotted there, Ramsey Canyon Preserve draws visitors for another reason each fall.

Some say Arizona doesn't experience seasons the way other parts of the country do but a walk through Ramsey Canyon Preserve in autumn will quickly dispel that myth. Each year, in late October and early November, the preserve transforms from the top down as waves of reds, oranges, and yellows cascade through the canyon.

Ramsey Canyon Preserve's incredible biodiversity is reflected in its flora just as much as its fauna. Juxtaposed against the yucca seen near the visitors center, pockets of oak, sycamore, and maple trees erupt in autumn colors along the preserve's shaded canyon trail.

IF YOU GO

Ramsey Canyon Preserve is open five days each week from 8:00 a.m. to 5:00 p.m. through October 31, then it shifts to 9:00 a.m. to 4:00 p.m. for the fall and winter. It is closed on Tuesdays and Wednesdays.

Entry is $6 per person, or $3 per person for Cochise County residents or Nature Conservancy members. Free guided walks are scheduled through November. For more information, call (520) 378-2785.

Enjoy Outdoor Pickleball

IT'S NOT TENNIS. IT'S NOT PING PONG.
IT'S PICKLEBALL!

One of the tennis courts next to the Oscar Yrun Community Center has been converted into four pickleball courts. It's free to play and the courts are open seven days a week from 4:00 a.m. to 10:00 p.m., with lights available at no charge for nighttime play. Paddles are available for check out at the Oscar Yrun Community Center Monday through Friday from 8:00 a.m. to 5:00 p.m.

Local players have scheduled times to play about five days a week, with Thursday at 6:00 p.m. being a popular night for beginners. To see their full schedule, join the "Sierra Vista Pickleball" group on Facebook. Newcomers are always welcome.

WHAT IS PICKLEBALL?

Pickleball is a racquet sport for all ages that combines the elements of tennis, badminton, and ping pong. It is played with a paddle and a plastic ball. The rules are simple and easy for anyone to learn. Two, three, or four players use solid paddles made of wood or composite materials to hit a perforated polymer ball, similar to a wiffle ball, over a net. It is played on a court 20 feet wide by 44 feet long. The sport shares features of other racquet sports; the dimensions and layout of a badminton court and a net and rules similar to tennis—with a few modifications. Pickleball was invented in the mid 1960s as a children's backyard pastime, but has become popular among adults as well. Come play outdoor pickleball, and give one of the fastest growing sports in America a try!

UNABLE TO READ PRINT MATERIAL? THE LIBRARY CAN HELP!

The love of reading does not suddenly disappear when someone loses their ability to read print material. It can be devastating to become unable to read, especially when the cause may also reduce the ability to do other daily tasks.

If you or someone you know is unable to read traditional print material due to physical limitations, such as vision loss or diminished ability to hold a book, there is help. The Arizona Talking Book Library offers a free service that many participants have proclaimed as a life saver.

Anyone of any age is eligible. Temporary services are available for people who may face a short-term disability, such as during illness or injury, or while recovering from a surgery.

There is no cost or need to purchase any equipment. A machine to play the books is provided free of charge and for as long as needed. Books, magazines, descriptive DVDs, a downloadable audio book service, and newspaper reading services are all provided free of charge. Playing a book is as simple as turning on the machine. All physical items are sent directly to the user and are returned to the library through the mail. Postage is free.

To sign up for the service or for more information, contact Debra Chatham at (520) 439-2255 or Debra.Chatham@SierraVistaAZ.gov. Demonstrations at the library or in group living situations can be arranged.

MARTIAL ARTS

JUJUTSU

Cruz Jujutsu is a derivative of Japanese Jujutsu developed about 75 years ago by Professor Fering Cruz of the Philippines. Developed for practical use, it encompasses throws, locks, strikes, escapes and constriction techniques. It is practiced free-form or structured, and is partner based.

Instructors teach this art in its "traditional" form. This is not a "ground fighting" Jujutsu class. Because of its partner based training method, safety and awareness are heavily stressed. The emphasis is on self-defense, but a study of the art itself is also encouraged.

Instruction is based on forms (kata) and their analysis, extensive partner training, individual and small group study, and exploration of presented material. The goal is to train thinking, analytical martial artists who can see beyond the confines of the course material and integrate them with concepts taught by other systems. Cross training and the study of other systems is encouraged. Focus is on civilian self defense, not on modern sporting versions of martial arts.
